

The Call of the Great Outdoors

Photographs by Wiswall Bros., Denver
Col., and Photo-Craft Assoc., Colorado Springs
Col.

Capt. Roald Amundsen returns from polar regions with Eskimos. He will make another exploration trip soon, the last trip being taken for the collection of scientific material. Eskimo girl at left who landed in Seattle.

(© Keystone View Co.)

The newest thing in transportation is the trackless trolley, recently tried out successfully. It is planned to use the new system in several Virginia and West Virginia cities. The car turns around without touching the trolley pole.

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

Miss Laura Eckels, chief of the orders division of the bureau of engraving and printing, probably handles more cash than any other person in America. Every note and stamp belonging to Uncle Sam passes through her hands before it is released by the Treasury Department.

(© National Photo Co.)

Mrs. Lillian Miller Gilbreth of Montclair, N. J., the mother of ten children, wins honors with scientific attainments. She has been awarded an honorary membership by the Society of Industrial Engineers. Mr. Gilbreth is a well known consulting engineer.

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

The latest photograph of Gen. Charles G. Dawes, director of the budget, taken as he was leaving the White House after a conference with President Harding.

(© Harris & Ewing.)